Running the Race!

A message from Fr. Gabriel

After we celebrate the feast of Pentecost later on this month (June 20th), the Church will remember how the same Holy Spirit that descended on the Apostles spread throughout the entire world, entering into the lives of Holy Men and Women who not only received the Spirit, but allowed it to champion their lives. On the last Sunday of the month, we celebrate the feast of All Saints! Baseball has Cooperstown. Football has Canton. We in the Church have the iconostasis which depicts LIFE's "Hall of Famers"; the Holy Saints of the World!

In the epistle for the feast of All Saints, St. Paul gives us perhaps one of my favorite images of what it means to live a saintly life. After speaking about all of the attributes and wonderful things the Saints of the Old Testament were able to do, and then going through all of the hardships that they had to endure, he says in his letter to the Hebrews: "We also, since we are surrounded by a great cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight...and the sin which easily ensues us. Let us run with endurance the race that is set before us... looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith."

I was reflecting on this epistle and remembering my time on the high school track team. Although I was never very fast, one event I enjoyed more than any of the others was the 400 meter hurdles. For those who have never been to a track meet before, there is a lot of preparation that a runner has to go through before participating in a race. It starts with getting their feet into position on the blocks, spending a moment to calm their heart rate from the adrenaline, and remaining focused on the task ahead while waiting for the shot of the starting gun.

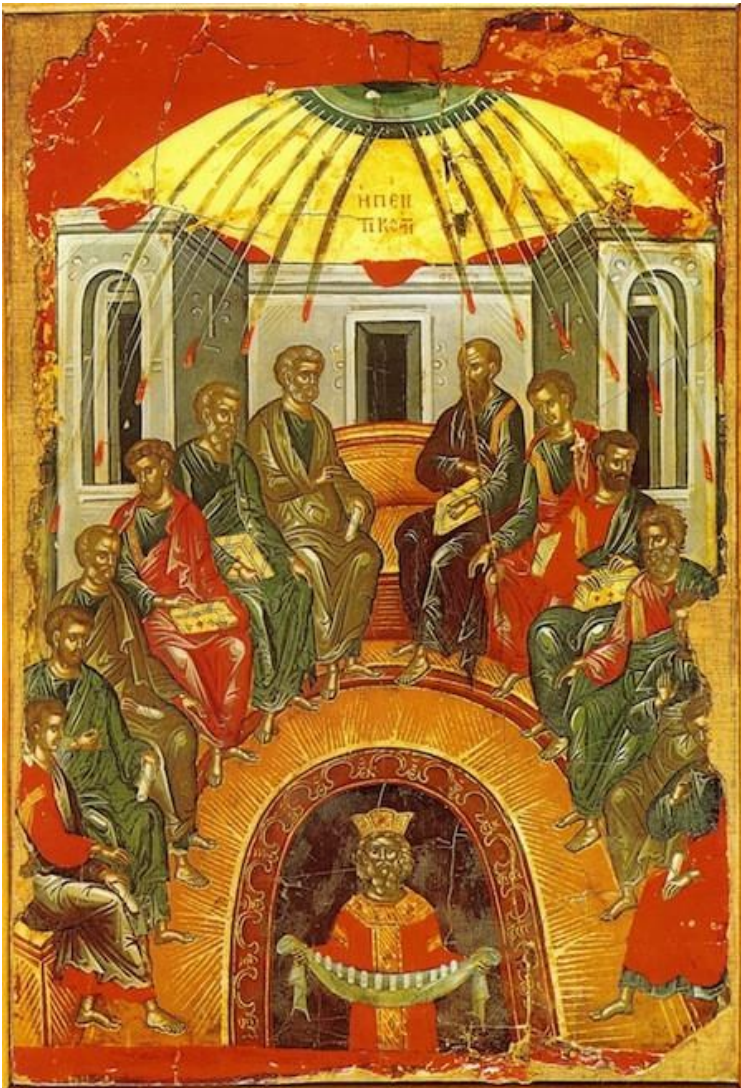

Once the race starts, the runners have a jolt of energy and adrenaline as they begin to concentrate on their form in trying to jump the hurdles that had been placed before them. Leaping off the right foot, bending your back knee just right so that it can clear the bar, and landing in a way that they don't break their stride takes a lot of practice and preparation. If by some chance they hit one of the bars or stumble, a good runner also has a short memory so that they can reset themselves for the next hurdle. While all of this is going on, the runners are surrounded on the track by crowds, their teammates, and their coaches who are cheering them on, encouraging them if they stumble, and embracing them when they finally cross the finish line!

In a very real way, as St. Paul and so many of the other Saints can attest, our spiritual life is very much like a race. It isn't one of speed, but rather one of "endurance" as we heard in the epistle. The race begins every morning when we open our eyes to a new day. We go into our prayer corners and (as St. Paul says) we "lay aside every weight", by asking forgiveness for our sins and the ways that we had fallen in the past. Then, just like when we are at the starting line, we focus our minds and our hearts on Christ, and the race that lies before us that day.

One of the morning prayers we read asks our Lord to: "Enlighten the eyes of my understanding, open my ears to receive your words...teaching me Your commandments. Help me to do Your will, to sing to you, to confess you with all my heart, and to praise Your All-Holy Name...".

Help me Lord, to allow the Holy Spirit to be my guide and my rock as I begin to tackle the day!

When the gun sounds and we leave our prayer corners, we go out into the world, and we are hit with daily tests and hurdles that we have to climb over. Whether it is a conversation or a post on social media that angers us, or a moment of greed or gluttony overcomes us, or we are hit with larger hurdles like a pandemic or political unrest, The Church, through her Saints, has trained us how to overcome every hurdle! There is no obstacle in life that is new or unique to our own place and time. The Saints, through the work of the Holy Spirit, offer us a chance through their lives and experience, to prepare ourselves for everything that life throws at us, if we only had the patience to listen to their coaching!

Once the day is over and we find ourselves at the finish line, we come face to face with Christ in our icon corners. In the evening prayers, there is a beautiful song of thanksgiving, thanking our Lord for allowing us to complete the race, and asking Him to continue to allow our hearts to be open to the work of the Holy Spirit in our lives. Through the Grace of the Holy Spirit, we pray that we can run an even stronger race the next day, encouraged by the loud cheers coming from the Church's Hall of Fame.

This is our life, brothers and sisters in Christ! This is the life of an Orthodox Christian! We have all received the Holy Spirit at Chrismation, and we continue to receive Him again and again when we partake of the Holy Eucharist! Among the first words we will sing after receiving Him is: "We have seen the true life...we have received the heavenly spirit...we have found the true faith....worshiping the undivided trinity who has saved us!" After every Divine Liturgy, we should be asking ourselves: "now what?" There is a temptation to move on from Church and go about our normal routine without giving a thought to the Holy Spirit that we had just received. This is an attitude that we all need to change within ourselves, if we ever hope to accomplish a successful race through life.

We have the Holy Spirit within us. If we quiet our minds to listen, it is He that guides us and gives us the endurance that is needed to conquer the day, leading us all to the footsteps of our Lord. May He enlighten our minds to this understanding and lead us on the right path, surrounded by the Saints who have already completed the race, and who continually cheer and encourage us as we jump over the difficult hurdles of life.

Month in Review

May was a month of "new beginnings" as far as the parish grounds and our expansion phases. We began the process of creating a playground and recreation space for our children near where the fire pit used to be. We also completed the required paperwork for the city for the planned addition of a multipurpose space off of the Education Center. God willing in June, we will begin to see work completed on the playground, and beginning on the new addition!

"Saint Nektarios; The Saint of our Century"
by Sotos Chondropoulos

St. Nektarios was born in Silyvria of Thrace in October 1, 1846 and gave up his soul to the Lord in November 8, 1920 at an Athens hospital. His baptismal name was Anastasios; the name Nektarios was given to him when he was ordained a deacon. In 1886, after the completion of his studies, he returned to Alexandria of Egypt where he was ordained Archpriest of the Metropolis of Pentapolis. His philanthropic deeds, the love of his flock and his saintly manners that began to manifest themselves gave rise to jealousy and slander. As a result, he was expelled from Alexandria—an unjust act that caused him great suffering. He arrived in Athens where he was treated with distrust while new tribulations, sorrows, and afflictions started to invade his life. However, nothing could extinguish the fire that his burning heart had for love towards Jesus Christ and towards his fellow-men. During the last years of his life, he established the convent in Aegina, where he was also entombed. Thus, his exemplary life left an unfading mark in the twentieth century; that of humility, perseverance, wise silence, and hope. In other words, the mark of saintliness.

Holy Pentecost

When Orthodox Christians throughout the world come into the Church on the day of Pentecost, they are often greeted with the sight of trees and various greens decorating the icons and the rest of the temple. This would have been a normal sight to the Apostles, who were celebrating the Feast of Shavuot, where the Hebrews would bring the first fruits of the year's harvest into the temple, to offer them to God. In the Orthodox World, we continue that tradition! The trees and plants outside are in full bloom, and the landscape has changed from a dead winter wasteland to a scene that is full of life. We bring that life into the temple of God to remind us of the new life that sprouts within all of us on this day, when the Holy Spirit comes down upon us and changes the outlook of our lives for all eternity.
